To the Editor:
Dear Sir:-

I wish to express my great appreciation of the splendid and efficient service rendered by the friends who staged the comedy "Facing the Music." It showed that there is considerable talent for such work present in our own community.

I may say that arrangements are being made for a second staging of the play for the benefit of those, who through the inclemency of the weather or otherwise, were unable to attend.

Yours truly
J. E. Collins

H. Ellergodt has been taken into the army, under the Military Service Act.

The meeting and dance held in the Gregerson School, on Tuesday, to discuss consolidation was well attended. After a short discussion a vote of the ratifiers was taken, which went strongly against consolidation.

Miss H. Ellergodt spent Easter up in Castor.

Facing the Music

Altho Monday was not an ideal spring day, by any means, yet a very good crowd came in from the country to witness the comedy "Facing the Music" which was put on by local talent. About 135 people were present and all thoroughly enjoyed the play. The members of the cast had worked hard and so went through their parts without a hitch, the three acts running along very smoothly.

The play bristles with witty lines and laugh provoking situations. While some of the cast outshone the others, they all deserve credit for their work.

The cast was as follows:

Rev. John Smith	Frank Crothers
John Smith	L. O. Gould
Dick Desmond	R. P. Thompson
Col. Duncan Smith	David Houston
Sergt. Duffel	Russell Garries
Mabel	Mrs. R. P. Thompson
Nora	Ada Curtis
Miss Fotheringay	Gertrude Biloff
Mrs. Ponting	Mrs. W. J. Reid

The scenery and stage effects were above the ordinary. If this play is repeated those who missed it should not fail to attend next time.

At the close of the show a presentation was made to Sergt Bob Clarke, when he was given a gold watch and $85 in cash.

Hurrah! Forward, March.

Note and Comment

There is no cause for panic among the people of Canada.

We must expect to make some food sacrifices and be willing to modify our eating habits and even eat less in order that the soldiers and our Allies may be fed. There is a world shortage of foods because, so far as we in Canada are concerned, other people have had to be withdrawn from farms to fight what our joint fight. Our obvious duty is to aid them by, at least sending them as much food as they used to get before they took up our common task.

Monday was about the worst day we have had all winter.

After the stretch of summer, in March, that storm hit us pretty hard. April certainly gave us a distinct shock, Monday

Consolidation

To the Editor:

As there is considerable discussion being carried on at the present time regarding consolidation of schools, in this vicinity, I will endeavor to deal with the question from the standpoint of a child, which of course should have our greatest attention when we consider such matters.

At the same time I will try to meet a few of the arguments used against the scheme by people, who, it seems to me, have never given the matter their earnest attention.

There are six main reasons why a consolidated school is better fitted than a rural one for the training and general welfare of the child. First, the town schools generally have more experienced and capable teachers than rural schools. Practically all teachers with several years experience are to be found in town schools and it is only natural that these schools should offer greater inducements to this class of teachers. When a teacher leaves the Normal, he or she generally enters a rural school. If they show ability or if they gain enough experience they seek schools in town, and consequently these schools secure qualified teachers, and this would be especially true should consolidation be put into effect here and a large and comfortable building erected.

In a school of 8 or 4 rooms we also have the opportunity to cover the course prescribed by the educational authorities. Anyone who has taught in a rural school knows it is absolutely impossible to cover the prescribed course in all grades. In a school of 8 grades the average time which can be spent by a teacher in actual teaching in each class in each grade is 45 min's.
Imagine if you can, any person trying to teach the meaning of fractions in 4 minutes.
To overcome this difficulty, much of the work has to be omitted and the pupil receives an education in the "3 R's" and very little else. In a school of 3 or 4 rooms this is the case. A teacher with 3 grades can easily cover all the work as she can spend more time with each class and so she accomplishes far greater results than having 8 grades to teach. Again, in a large building the pupils are provided with better equipment and are therefore enabled to grasp their work more clearly and efficiently. Pupils take far more pride in a room which is well equipped and absolutely sanitary than in one barely furnished, as many rural schools are.

In a consolidated school, pupils are given the opportunity to take up high school work, and this fact alone should prove a great asset to the people of this district.
Many who now leave school after the 7th or 8th grade would continue in school and in some cases acquire university matriculation. It is also a great incentive to the public school pupil to take up high school work when he is in his home school. In a rural school the graduation is class 8. In a consolidated school it is grade 11 or 12.
It is quite evident then that many boys & girls will prefer to graduate rather than drop out before their course is finished.
By so doing they would be doing themselves a service for which they would always be grateful.

Another point is the fact that in a large school a better heating and ventilation system is provided and the whole building is better equipped than a small country school. Pupils become far less antagonic to school life when everything is up-to-date. Lastly, the social life of the large school is far more attractive than that of the small one. Different organizations are formed, games and sports are taken up extensively, competition arises between the different grades, and generally speaking, the whole spirit of the school is greatly strengthened. The result of this will be that children will enjoy school life and no longer shall we have to "drive" them to school. They will, rather, take an active interest in their school and so their school life is a thing to which they can, in latter years look back upon with pleasure —a thing which very few adults are able to do.

Among the arguments brought against this scheme is that of the increased expenditure. This may be true while the new building is being paid for but after this is done, expenses will be diminished greatly. It stands to reason that where each teacher has 20 or 40 pupils the cost per pupil will be smaller than when the class has only 15 or 20. At any rate, no parent should object to a slight increase in the cost of his child's education when that child is receiving a much better public school and possibly a high school education. The van system is, I understand, another objection raised. When you realize that the children drive in a conveyance which is covered and heated, you can see that this is much more desirable than having them walk a long distance and have their hands or feet frozen as they so often do in the country. This van system was one of the main objections taken by the people of Consort to the scheme, but now no complaints are heard and everyone seems to be entirely satisfied. If our next-door neighbors can put this into effect, is there any reason why we, under exactly similar conditions can not do the same thing. This is, I think, sufficient for this time. Should anyone wish to further discuss the question, I am sure their opinions will be treated with every consideration.

Thanking you for space, I remain

Yours truly

"Citizen."

Complete Service to Ford Owners Everywhere

COURTEOUS attention to your needs wherever you may travel is something you appreciate, and being a Ford owner you can get it. You are always "among friends".

There are more than 700 Ford Dealer Service Stations throughout Canada. These are always within easy reach of Ford owners —for gasoline, oil, tires, repairs, accessories, expert advice or motor adjustments.

The cost of Ford Service is as remarkably low as the cost of the car itself. Nineteen of the most called for parts cost only $5.40. Just compare this with the cost of spare parts for other cars and you will realize the advantage of owning a Ford.
